

Prof. István Hargittai

Los Alamos and "Los Arzamas" Scientists in the American and Soviet nuclear weapons laboratories

Il giorno venerdì 11 ottobre alle ore 12 di nell'aula 1.D del Dipartimento di Scienze Umane (ex ospedale S. Salvatore, presso la Fontana Luminosa) il Prof. István Hargittai, professore di chimica presso la Budapest University of Technology and Economics e direttore della George A. Olah PhD School of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering, terrà un seminario di storia della scienza dal titolo:

Los Alamos and "Los Arzamas" Scientists in the American and Soviet nuclear weapons laboratories

“Prof. István Hargittai, PhD, DSc (Budapest, Hungary), is the author of several acclaimed books including the six-volume Candid Science series of interviews with famous scientists; The Road to Stockholm: Nobel Prizes, Science, and Scientists; The Martians of Science: Five Physicists Who Changed the Twentieth Century; and The DNA Doctor: Candid Conversations with James D. Watson.

Dr. Hargittai is professor of chemistry at the Budapest University of Technology and Economics and head of the George A. Olah PhD School of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering. He is a member of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, a foreign member of the Norwegian Academy of Science and Letters, and a member of the Academia Europaea in London.”