

The SIICA SCHOOL of IMMUNOLOGY 2020

Viral immunology & Vaccinology

#Sol2.0 in live streaming

Bari 2017

Messina 2018

To keep our immune system “trained” and to reduce the side effects of the social distancing during the lockdown, the Società Italiana di Immunologia Clinica e Allergologia (SIICA) is organizing a School for PhD students based on a series of webinars in live streaming on zoom.us and youtube, followed by interactive sessions of students and faculty including a question time with the speaker. The topic will be “Viral immunology and Vaccinology” and will begin on April 14th. Every webinar is scheduled in the afternoon and will include a lecture by a recognized expert in the field. The registration is completely free and a certificate of attendance will be provided at the end of the School.
